

Grant Announcement Arlington Education Fund

2018 Deadline: Tuesday, October 30, 2018
Sometimes a little money can make a big difference!

The Arlington Community Foundation is accepting proposals for funding from its Education Fund and two interested donor-advised funds of the Foundation, the JTK Fund and the Julie Dickson Brown Fund. Organizations and individuals with innovative projects or activities that would not otherwise be easily funded are encouraged to apply. These funds are dedicated to supplementing and enriching the learning environment for students in Arlington, from preschool to adult. The Foundation will award grants of up to $1,500 toward total project cost; all awards must be payable through a 501(c)(3) organization or a public school or other unit of government.

The Education Fund Review Committee is particularly interested in funding projects that focus on any of the following:

- Curriculum enrichment
- Arts education – musical, dramatic, dance and visual
- Community Service – environmental issues, parent involvement, physical and health education and community involvement
- Low-income students and/or second-language learners
- Students with special needs
- Out of School Time activities

In addition, the Committee will use the following to evaluate grant requests:

- Innovation or uniqueness of the project or planned activity
- A budget mostly for materials and expenses, less for professional fees
- Extent to which the grant would represent a meaningful component of the project or program budget

The Arlington Community Foundation receives and manages gifts to support education. An advisory committee of business, community, and educational leaders oversees the Funds' grant-making and resource development.

Applications must be received at the Arlington Community Foundation by 5:00 pm on October 30, 2018. Visit <http://www.arlcf.org/non-profits/apply-for-a-grant/> to obtain the downloadable application form.

Please note: All correspondence and grant payments will be sent to the Principal or Executive Director.

For more information, contact: Arlington Community Foundation
818 N. Quincy Street, Suite #103
Arlington, VA 22203
703-243-4785
grants@arlcf.org
www.arlcf.org